Dear Sir:

Microfilm Reel No. 5 forwarded to me by your office has been reviewed. The contents seem to be adequately described by the Index and are without general interest to the Petroleum Industry. The information pertaining to coal hydrogenation would probably be reviewed only by persons seeking complete coverage of this field.

The reel contained a large number of items relating to analytical methods. There appears to be nothing novel in those testing procedures nor is the descriptive matter properly referenced as to source. We do not think that Harry Levin's Analytical Subcommittee will need to examine these subjects.

Reel No. 5 is being returned to you. May we have another.

Very truly yours,

H. W. FIELD
